

HARRIS HARBOR

Located in Alaska's capital, Juneau, this job consisted of installing an entirely new harbor facility including on-shore site improvements, new floats, new electrical and plumbing systems. Puffin Electric's work entailed all new distribution equipment and underground cable, parking area lighting on the uplands, lighted float pedestals for shore-side power and all related cable.

General contractor on this job was Trucano Construction of Juneau, Alaska.